

GERMAN AGENTS WELL SECRETED

Plotters Covered Tracks Admirably, the Investigators Find; None Are Known.

New York, April 15.—Federal investigators had made little progress today in their attempt to discover the identity of the man who financed and directed the alleged fire bomb conspiracy to destroy munition ships.

Agents of the department of justice said today that the system of the German agents alleged to be involved in destructive activities in this country, is so perfect that none of the ring leaders are disclosed.

"Those who have a comprehensive knowledge of such an undertaking are high class men who will neither confess nor betray a single secret," said Capt. Wm. M. O'Flaherty, of the department. "The men who have confessed are not entrusted with important secrets. For that reason the six confessions we have obtained are of little value in going higher."

The whereabouts of Dr. Walter T. Schuele, the chemist who conducted the fertilizer factory in Hoboken, where it is charged the bombs were filled with explosives, has not been ascertained by the authorities. His wife, who lives in Bogota, N. J., said he had gone on a two weeks' trip into the mining regions of Pennsylvania. Federal investigators are examining the bank accounts of Dr. Schuele in the hope of discovering whence he obtained the $10,000 check to finance the operations of the factory.

Young people need clear complexions

If you find yourself "left out" because of a poor skin, and want a clear, fresh complexion, use at least once a day. Wash thoroughly with a warm, creamy lather of it, then rinse the face with plenty of cold water.

It does not often take many days of such regular care with Resinol Soap to show an improvement, because the Resinol medication soothes and refreshes the skin, while the perfectly pure soap is cleansing it.

In severe or stubborn cases, Resinol Soap should be used by a little Resinol Ointment. All druggists sell them.

MADAM SHERRY'S BACK AGAIN

"Every Little Movement" Song as Tuneful as Ever; Has Many Laughs.

Madam Sherry, a well known El Paso visitor, is back again for a limited stay and is at home at the Texas Grand with a company all her own. This company is called the Polly Girls and the 21 members give as good an interpretation of the famous French operetta as some of the one night road show companies which have presented the madam and her musical comedy here in the past.

"Madam Sherry" will never grow old and its musical theme, the famous "Every Little Movement" song, will never lose its rhythm or tunefulness. This song runs through the play and is as rare as a glass of the old wine for which the play is named. It catches the audience at the rise of the first curtain, when Lulu, the dancer, and her aristocratic chorus, perform a classical dance to the tune of the swinging song.

Bobby Roberts, an old man Theophrastus Sherry, who owns a yacht and has many little peculiarities all his own, plays the leading comedy part and his dry, droll way of getting laughs with no longer line than "I'm surprised," is a distinct and pleasurable relief from the slap-bang style of musical comedy. His niece, Yvonne, shares the center of the stage with her uncle. The part is played by Irene Mae Boyd and she dances and sings well and is good looking along with it.

Billy Frawley, who is known here locally as a dancer and entertainer, was to have played the part of Eddie Sherry, but he quit the company at Lordsburg and the part was taken by an understudy who, with only a day's notice, learned the part and went through with it well, considering his brief time for study.

Adrienne Arthur, as Lulu the dancer, is another attractive member of the company, who sings in good voice and makes love to old man Sherry's nephew in the old fashioned way. Pepita is another good looking member of the Sherry show. As the gypsy girl she sings the "Gypsy Love Song" well and is sufficiently full of fire to make the part real. Gene Post, musical director, plays "Phillip," the supposed president of Venezuela and the real president of the Janitors' union, and gets many laughs.

Madam Sherry is in three acts, 14 songs and 200 laughs. It has lost none of its tunefulness and fun and is good entertainment for all who have not seen Madam Sherry before and for those who have.

PEPPIS PROMISE A FINE PROGRAM

High School Entertainment to Be an Elaborate Affair, They Say.

The preparations now in progress for the coming high school performance on April 23 and 24 promise success for the high school young men and women in this undertaking.

Both comedian, comedienne, in the persons of Elliot Chess and Esther Ingham, it is predicted, will give those present a treat not to be easily forgotten. Besides these, the heroic character of Kenneth Tracy, the staid old man, Mr. Malibani, the rough and ill-mannered person of Don Alfredo Suarez, will not fall in their appeal to the public. Again the sweet character of Juanita in her helpless condition, together with her final liberation from the hands of her abductor, is expected to strike a note of sincere sympathy in the heart of the audience.

The dauntless to be given in connection, and now under the organization of Mrs. Margaret Kinnon Stevens, is to be a feature. The young women to perform that evening are carefully selected among the high school girls in the physical training department and there is no doubt that their natural grace and beauty will tend to make their part of the program most artistic.

Finally the high school symphony orchestra, of 30 pieces, will play a short program at the beginning of the performance, and then accompany the dancing for the second part of the program. Those who have heard it before undoubtedly know what this organization has accomplished so far, and can readily imagine what its program will be this time.

Crane permitted Kitty Gordon to turn her back to the camera, while playing in the big feature, "As in a Looking Glass," that is to be seen at the Alhambra today, and it generally happened that her gown was becomingly decorated. She is a very attractive young woman, and would wait a convincing display of Miss Gordon's much advertised back. The producers were extremely fortunate in having a star of this caliber, and they so much responsibility on un-draped shoulders. Nobody is going to be disappointed in Miss Gordon's beauty, from whatever angle it is viewed; then her gown is magnificent and her acting is of the best.—Adv.

REWARD ON STAGE

MISS IRENE MAE BOYD.

Being Stage Struck Has Its Reward if a Girl Has Stick-to-itiveness.

DOES being stage struck, in the true sense of the word, bring the expected reward of success to the aspirant after histrionic honors? Yes, emphatically yes, claims Miss Irene Mae Boyd, one of the cast of principals comprising Stevenson's "Polly Girls" company of 25 people now playing a special engagement at the Texas Grand theater.

In answering this question, which has been mooted since the stage began, Miss Boyd, who modestly bears the distinction of being one of the youngest ingenue-actresses in a musical production, has the right, through personal experience, it is said, to so decisively express herself. Not so very many years ago Miss Boyd first became inculcated with the state germ and, being active and persevering, refused to be exterminated, even when the edict of opposition via the parental route was delivered. Securing her first engagement, Miss Boyd assiduously applied what talents she had which, augmented by a natural endowment of good looks, physical qualifications and an abundance of good reasoning power and the determination to win, bore fruit.

Miss Boyd has since been prominently identified with many of the eastern musical successes of magnitude, securing especially in the role of "Yvonne Sherry" in "Madame Sherry," which she created in the original road production.

Miss Boyd is a great believer in "stick-to-itiveness," and advises the ambitious to "go in and win."

NEWS NOTES FROM THE PAST

67 DAISY DEAN

NOT the least considered item of expense for Kalem in staging the fifteen episodes of George Bronson Howard's "Social Pirates" is the bill that is mounting up for gowns and hats of all sorts for the stars and Ollie Kirkby, the pretty portrayers of the social pirates.

Kalem has found that securing special costumes for a feature production is a simple task compared with the task of catering to Dame Fashion's demands through the long course of 15 two-reel pictures.

Women fans are quick to note and write complaining letters when stars wear a gown too frequently in ordinary productions and in the case of a series, when they are following the characters with more than ordinary interest their demands are even more exacting.

SHAKESPEARE FILM FROM THAMHOUSER

A contribution to the Shakespeare celebration will be a Thamhouser release on April 20, "Master Shakespeare." Strolling Player, in the star role. It is a unique offering since, without being a play from the pen of the poet of Avon, it nevertheless brings into play the characters he made famous. Around Miss La Badie, as a girl of today, revolves the Shakespearian controversy. The offering is not a costume piece, for the events about Miss La Badie blend the world of today with that of Shakespeare's time.

NORMANDY VILLAGE ON ISLAND IN PACIFIC An entire village, a reproduction of Thiers, on the coast of Normandy, was built on San Clemente island, off the California coast, for scenes in the forthcoming Biograph production, "Cleopatra," featuring Viola Smith. Miss Smith and her company, including Claire McDowell, Jack Mulhall and Joe Drummer, spent two weeks on the island, and the life they lived there is in the picture.

Mr. Sothern will not act in any Shakespearean plays under his contract with Vitagraph, because Julia Marlowe will not be able to play opposite him. He will appear in three features dealing with modern life, opposite Lillian Walker, Anita Stewart and Edith Storey.

Warplane in Night Skies Proves to Be Toy Balloon

Was it a warplane or was it a toy balloon? Charlie Stevens swore it was an albatross flying over Mount Franklin and followed it in his overgrown Flivver as far as the Courchesne bridge Friday night. The Herald reporter thought it was a seppelin which had wandered off from Germany in search of excitement. The light was seen by many people Friday night and attracted much attention as it was plainly seen in the western sky. When it was discovered that school children who were having a picnic on Mount Franklin had sent up some toy balloons and this is believed to be the explanation of the mystery of the skies.
